

Immunocal

- Proven to raise cellular glutathione
- Glutathione is food for the immune system and a powerful antioxidant
- Glutathione detoxifies the liver
- Glutathione is the body's most powerful healing agent

Glutathione can be replenished in the body at the cellular levels only. Immunocal is a specially formulated whey protein isolate that raises glutathione in the body with cysteine, a precursor to glutathione. For those sensitive to dairy, it does not contain lactose. Other products you may find at a health food store do not have the same bioavailability and are therefore likely to be destroyed by the stomach acid before being absorbed into the bloodstream.

In a perfect world we would not need supplements, but with so many negatives in our environments such as pollution, toxins, pesticides, processed foods, viral illness and stress, we need more than eating right, rest and exercise to stay healthy.

Health Canada has validated Immunocal's ability to maintain a strong immune system as well as to increase muscle strength and performance, which is linked to healthier aging and resistance to health challenges. Immunocal is listed in the doctor's drug reference book called "CPS" in Canada, and "PDR" in the USA.

Immunocal is derived from milk and contains whey.
It does not contain lactose and is safe for dairy sensitive individuals.
